FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Saturabay Nov. 23.

While in the main the stock market languished during the present week, the average price of the greater number of solid at least be said that on the first and last days of the period the market rose in a really violent way. What particularly caused the advance to day seemed rather difficult to determine. Since Monday the market had declined nearly 3½ points. a 2000. 361, 2000. 37 difficult to determine. Since Monday the market had declined nearly 3% points, a rather, considerable fall in the present. narrow trading, so that a sharp upward. rebound was obviously due at any time; RAILROAD AND OTHER SHARES for encouragement put in an appearance this morning. The fact that the President of the United States invited Mr. Morgan and Mr. Baker to confer with him Ret. 2(300 Amalcon. 4878, 47 100 Am Ag Ch. 102 101 200 Am Beet Su 8 8 500 Am Can pt. 3514, 35 evening exercised a morally beneficial effect, even if results of this meeting were]. not stated. Yesterday the pressure of liquidation in certain quarters of the market that has been manifestly in progress through the week was decidedly less and was indeed reduced to a minimum. The engage-ments of guid made by our bankers yesterday in Paris constituted a helpful influence. although sonly relatively small sums of morrey were sectifed from this source. But for a long time back the Bank of France has refused to release any gold at all for the use of this country and has even parted with money very sparingly for the purpose of moderating the financial strain to which the Bank of England has been subjected. That this altitude has changed, even if only vement of sentiment here. Again, a ter feeling was stimulated by the annocement of weekington after the above 5 business years may afternoon that the acretary of the Trousury world leader of the book with some at least of the national ks subscribing to the new Government cent. certificates of indebtedness a erger proportion of the amount of the criptions than was originally intended, therefore the prospective drain upon banks of the city of Government withbawals of money for the use of the West be correspondingly lessened. Neverthese all these known developments did upturn in prices to-day. The truth is that so far as the present speculative stock market is concerned fluctuations in it are almost solely dependent upon the buying and selling operations of operators for the These speculators "hammered" the market vigorously on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday when doubts began to be expressed as to the efficacy of the Government's relici measures and when a rather unexpected hepidation set in in particular sections of the bond market. They bought back stocks tentatively yesterday when this liquidation ceased and when the steps taken by the Government appeared in a more favorable light. To-day buying of this sort was conducted with a rush, but as the market receives now only a medicum of investment support it should surprise no one if early next week these speculators should again reverse their attitude and self stocks as freely as they bought them Quite aside from any further measures that may be taken by powerful financiers to utilize as an extension of credit in a more decided way than has yet been outlined the Government's issue of Panama Canal bonds and one year notes the general situation is unquestionably receiving immediate benefit through the extraordinary importations of gold. It is true that it is generally understood that a great deal of this gold will be sent back to Europe as soon as financial conditions here approach a normal basis, and it is also a fact that most of the gold that has been brought over has not been kept in this city but has been promptly shipped West. An impression has widely revailed in Wall Street this week that much of this Western demand for money is selfish and inordinate and is due to a hoarding of money by out of town institutions no less reprehensible than, that conducted by private individuals here several days since. In high banking circles it is held, however, that the tinancial situation in the West is in real need of assistance; that is to say, principally, that farmers and planters are having great difficulty because of the scarcity of currency in marketing their crops. But after such immense remittances of money to interior points as have been made from the East in recent weeks and are still to be made in the faxt few days the necessity of such transfers of funds must be a good deal less than it was. The until after the end of the Stock Exchange session, showed but small changes from the figures of the exhibit made a week ago. The most encouraging item of the statement was the decrease of $4.912,000 in bank loans. the first time for a long time in which any decrease has been shown. The cash loss by the banks was $2,807,900, or considerably less than was looked for yesterday; but the decrease here would obviously have been he if the $12,500,000 gold that arrived last Ganing on the Mauretania had been placed in the possession of the banks a little earlier Had it not been for the one day's delay that took place here it is possible that there would have been no falling off whatever in the bank surplus instead of the small decrease that occurred.

THE GRAIN MARKETS.

Prices Irregular—Closing Pirmer—Less
Pressure of Liquidation—Shorts Cover. Wheat closed higher on a more favorable financial situation, a lessened pressure of liquidation and covering of shorts. It was a feverish and irregular market with frequent fluctuations in prices. Early in the day the general drift of prices was upward, owing mainly to a stronger market for stocks, small world's shipments, covering of physics and more or less commission house buying.

Bulls contend that the shortage in the world's crops warrants higher prices and that wheat is now selling below its intrinsic value. They argue further that it would even now be selling higher but for the aggressive tactics of strong bearish interests in Wall Street and at the West. However this may be, the market soon encountered resistance and weakened. Pit traders hammered and forced more or less liquidation. The Northwest again sent selling orders. The speculation is a narrow, professional affair, and this of itself militates against bullish interests. Uncertainty as to will be done with December holdings too deters buyers. Meantime the trading is mainly for quick turns pending developments in the financial situation. Moreover many, are watching Argentina. The size of the crop in that country, it is believed, will have an unusually important bearing this season on the course of prices in this country. At present the Argen-tine prospects seem favorable for a good crop, but t is not yet out of danger.

Yesterday Minneapolis advices said: Walter

Gretory, manager of the Advance Thresher Company, has received a cable from John Drysdale, the company's representative at Buenos Ayres, stating that the Argentine wheat crop prospects are extremely encour-Liverpool decined % to %d., influenced by Beerbohm estimates the world's crop at .070,800,000 bush. against his figures of .532,640,000 last year or a decrease of 461,840,-00 bush. The Washington figures for last ear are 3,426,000,000 bush., and the average or flve years is 3,213,000,000 bush.

In discussing the situation Oscar K. Lyle aid: "Nothing in the week has suggested any reater production or less requirements rigentima has maintained her good promise, the crop is reported as not an early one, and his means a longer period to its security. In avesting begins in December and extends to January. Acreage is given as 13,320,000 and suggestive of a generous result. However much is raised, it will all find a ready unket. Climatic influences for two months o come are highly important as affecting ield, quality and early movement. The edded area in the United States in winter heat will soon be declared. No increase is robable. That greater areas in grain in rement years have not been planted is due to the larcity and high price of farm labor. High ages paid in other engagements than farming have drained the farms of help. This has een going on for several years with the position that now labor is only procurable at prices at forbid profit. It will take hard times industrial lines to return labor to the fields and enable greater crops. On Friday there ere some steadying influences, but nothing vailed to stop a raid to undermine prices y short interests. The purpose is evident, hough the turning point is not apparent. The has been fitted. Is money to get orse? With the efforts of relief this looks wimprobable. Short selling looks dancrous when regarding the probabilities of the future, which appeal very bullishly to ever cables, further liquidation, more or

From this source the lattner is had little money and the more need to get with corn. Hogs are coming in freely deeping lower. The feeding argument is against the common more than a programment of the cars. may kill his hogs and stop their eating high priced corn. The feeding argument is against prices as now made. It is noteworthy how the demand has failen of. The October receipts in Chicago were very large, 13,329,000 bushels, and evidently filled many holes and satisfied much demand. Bull sentiment has fallen away under the severe losses shown in a fail of 10 cents a bushel in a month. Market will have its railies, but if any grain is due to go lower it is corn. Millers have been compelled to reduce price of feed, but are maintaining profits from lower grain. Outs were easier for a time in sympathy with corn, but when that cereal rullied outs followed. The cash trade was dull, but the offerings and receipts were light, and when shorts covered prices moved upward easily. Chicago received 88 cars and expects 150 on Monday.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Prices Advance Moderately-Prominent Interests Buying-Shorts Cover.

Ara Wall Street converts taking their places on the bullish amen bench? Some of the signs are supposed to point that way. Two of these operators who at one time seemed to be bears beyond redemption are credited with having repented, turned over a new leaf and taken the "long" side of the market. They were said to be buying on Saturday with all the zeal of new converts. Europe also bought. The Lancashire troubles may not end in a strike. Arbitration has stepped in. The stock market advanced and there was a good deal of covering of shorts in cotwas a good deal of covering of shorts in cot-ton. Liverpool for a moment was a damper, but only for a moment. It was unexpectedly weak owing partly, it appears, to Continental selling and partly to cable despatches of a very bearish hue sent from this side in regard to the business situation in this country. Wall Street and the South also sold for a time. but the preponderance of orders was the other wav and the elect on prices was evident in a raily of some 13 to 16 points from the lowest prices of the morning. Finances are against the trade, so are decreased spinners' takings—they are nearly 250,000 bales smaller lowest prices of the morning. Finances are against the trade, so are decreased spinners' takings—they are nearly 250,000 bales smaller this season than for the same time last year—and the speculation, aside from a few big operators and the rank and file of the professional cotton world, is a mere shadow of its former self. But tight money prevents the flooding of the Southern markets with cotton, statistics of visible supplies are bullish, receipts are light and the crop is believed to be 2,000,000 bales smaller than that of last year, without counting the shortage in foreign countries. The bull side does not impress bulls as an enjant perdu just yet.

Edward Moyse & Co. said: "American mills are buying very sparingly for the very good reason that they are unable to make financial arrangempets to carry cotton. Cancellations of orders or at best requests to delay deliveries of goods owing to the purchaser's inability to pay for them will cause considerable curtaliment of activity and materially reduce the consumption of raw cotton. It has been said that 'America's necessity is Europe's opportunity,' and it is claimed that foreign apinners will get the pick of this crop before financial conditions improve sufficiently to allow American mills to lay in their supplies; in other words, that this country will overexport itself. Such a condition cannot become apparent until late in the spring and is based on the assumption that the crop will be no greater than 11,500,000, a belief which we frankly admit we do not share; in fact, we firmly believe that the outurn will be fully 12,250,000. However, the ginners' figures of December 8, will throw further and much needed light on this point."

Mesers Hutton, Gwathmey, Mitchell, Rountre, Hubbard Bros. & Co. said: "Liverpool is reported as being supplied with the most doleful accounts of the condition of affairs in America and to expect a general commercial panio on this side. Here it is evident that the strength of the ommercial community which they did not believe existed.
